

Consider Your Options

Medicare (Parts A & B)

VS.

Advantage (Part C)

Managed by the federal government

Offered by private insurance companies

Choose any provider that accepts Medicare; no referrals needed

Primary care physician manages your care; referrals required for specialists

Most medical services covered; routine dental, vision, and hearing excluded

All services covered by Medicare, plus extras like dental, vision, hearing, and gym memberships in some plans

Access care from nearly any physician across the United States

Reliant on restricted, self-contained networks

Pay a premium, deductible, and coinsurance; typically no other costs arise

Risk of additional out-of-pocket costs; cost structures vary

No pre-authorizations required

Requires prior approval for certain services

When choosing between the two, consider factors like healthcare needs, budget, and preferences regarding choice in healthcare providers.
